

Food Safety, Nutrition, and Health: A Transatlantic Partnership

April 17-18, 2008

Memorial Student Center, Room 292

Texas A&M University

Save the Date!

In today's world, food and consumer product safety is of global concern. Throughout the environment new threats to our food supply are uncovered and developing threats are on the rise. Food safety management is a global responsibility. The challenge to achieve food safety success will require cohesive preventative methodology and organized strategies on an international level.

The EU Center of Excellence at Texas A&M University will host a conference entitled “Food Safety, Nutrition and Health: A Transatlantic Partnership,” that will address the measurability of the various levels of food protection, quality assurance systems, obesity, health claims, nutritional labeling, and the development of nutrition and health policies, issues prevalent in both the United States and Europe.

The two day event will be cosponsored by:

The College of Agriculture and Life Sciences
The College of Veterinary Medicine and Biomedical Sciences.
The Texas A&M University Mexico Center
The Bush Presidential Library Foundation

For more information about the conference, an agenda, and a list of featured speakers, please visit the EUCE website at <http://eucenter.tamu.edu/Outreach.asp>

For registration please contact Ms. Gabriela Benavides Valades at:
foodsafety@tamu.edu or by phone at 52.55.55.468.899